McCLELLAN SUPPORT WON

Bill To Reverse Basic Labor Laws Given Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee Friday approved 12-1 a bill to reverse basic labor laws, and Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) soon afterwards announced he would support it on the floor.

This support was what sponsors of the legislation had been angling for McClellan's voice probably will carry great weight with many of his colleagues in the floor debate.

He not only is chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, whose exposures have sparked demands for labor law revision, but also is highly respected by his fellow Southerners.

The bill would set up a union democracy code and require public reporting by unions of financial data. It also would modify or repeal some provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Confers

McClellan said he had conferred repeatedly with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief author of the measure, and he added: "At my suggestion, certain important amendments have been added which have greatly strengthened the measure. I can now support it."

"In its present form, this measure will give important protection to the rights of workers, of management and the public."

If enacted, and properly administered and enforced, it will drive many unrefined ex-convicts, racketeers, gangsters and crooked officials out of the union movement and strengthen the position of honest, decent unionism and its leaders."

But Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), who cast the only dissenting vote in the committee, said he still regards it as "a milktost bill." He announced he would try to have it amended on the Senate floor.

If enacted into law the legislation would bring the widest changes in basic labor law since the passage of the Taft-Hartley Act in 1947. There is doubt, however, that the House will act on it.

Before passage, the Senate adopted, by a 43-28 roll call vote, an amendment by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) to reduce military assistance funds from the $1,800,000,000 asked by Eisenhower to $1,600,000,000.

Ceiling

But this simply had the effect of placing a ceiling at that figure on the amount the President may spend for military hardware such as jet bombers, tanks and other weapons.

Under the language of the bill, he can shift the 20 million to economic defense supports for allies with which the United States has defense pacts.

The bill authorizes an expenditure of up to $35 million for defense supports. Ellender dropped a proposed amendment to reduce this figure by 135 million.

The net effect of Ellender's amendment was to keep the combined total for military assistance and defense supports at $2,400,000,000 the figure recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee. The committee bill had given the President a choice of cutting 235 million from either military assistance or defense supports.

McCone Named To Atom Group; Replaces Strauss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John A. McCone, a Los Angeles industrialist and former defense official in the Truman administration, was named Friday to replace outgoing Chairman Lewis L. Strauss on the Atomic Energy Commission.

President Eisenhower sent the 56-year-old Republican's nomination to the Senate. But he withheld appointment of a new AEC chairman until McCone's membership is confirmed.

The White House declined to say whether McCone or one of the four present commissioners would be given the chairmanship. Strauss will vacate the post when his five-year term expires June 30.

May Name Vance

There had been some speculation the President might promote Commissioner Harold S. Vance to the chairmanship.

McCone's appointment was received favorably by key members of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee which will pass on the nomination. Chairman Carl T. Durham (D-N.C.) said McCone "always impressed me as a very good man."

Yugoslavs Hit Back At China

BELGRADE (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia blasted Red China Friday for attacks on Yugoslav leaders.

Government spokesman Jakska Petric declared the attacks do not lag behind those directed against Yugoslavia after it was expelled from the Soviet-run Cominform in 1948.

The Chinese try to substitute the lack of arguments with shouts and curses, Petric told a news conference.

He said Red China's attitude raises "worries as regards Chinese foreign policy in general." Red China is one of the most violent antagonists of Yugoslavia in the Soviet-sponsored, anti-Yugoslav campaign.

Solon's Death Casts Shadow On Tax Bills

Rep. Chachere's Passing Slashes Long's Support

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Death of Rep. Walter Chachere, a fervent Long supporter, casts a shadow over whether the administration can muster the necessary 68 House votes on any future tax bill, or controversial constitutional amendment.

Gov. Earl K. Long indicated Friday he may appoint a successor to the Franklin Parish seat left vacant by Chachere's fatal heart attack Thursday night in Winniboro.

"If the people of that parish were to bring enough pressure to convince me they might need representation," Long said, "I might go along with an appointment even though it is my conviction that one should not be made."

The governor, who in 1955 criticized the appointment by former Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Rep. Risley C. Triche of Assumption to fill a vacancy, added, "I have been forced to do a number of things I would rather not do—particularly on the subject of taxes."

1st Major Tax

Long forces Wednesday collected 68 House votes—the required two-thirds—to pass a one-cent boost in the gas gathering tax, the first major tax to get through the House since the two-thirds constitutional provision was adopted two years ago.

A member of the governor's strategy-making team, asking that his name not be used, said Thursday Long is ready to concentrate on passage of a half-cent sales tax hike plan estimated to produce 23 million dollars a year.

The constitution provides that the governor must call an election to fill any vacancy in the Legislature. However, the Legislature has sole authority to pass on the qualification of members and can accept an appointment as it did in Triche's case.

Although the seating of an appointee cannot be attacked in the courts, the possibility exists that his vote could be challenged legally on any given piece of legislation, particularly if a bill passed with just the legally required number of votes as did the gas gathering tax raise.

Triche was appointed to replace the late Rep. Clarence J. Savoie at a time when the Assumption

Unemployment At 4-Month Low U. S. Gov't Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported Friday that unemployment dropped to a four-month low of 4,904,000 in May—the sharpest monthly decline in the jobless total since the recession began last fall.

The new total was 216,000 below the April unemployment level and 244,000 under the March postwar peak.

Meanwhile, a sharp seasonal increase in outdoor work brought jobs for 1,154,000 more Americans, raising the total number of employed to 64,061,000.

Government economists said the most significant aspect of the joint Labor-Commerce Department report was a drop in the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment from 7.5 per cent in April to 7.2 per cent in May.

It was the first decline in the rate since it started to climb last summer.

Honor

An assemblage of interest is planned to honor the Rev. John M. Allin, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the parish house of the church.

The church leader to be honored has served with unusual success at Grace church for six years and in this time membership and interest in church activities have been greatly activated.

In his time here, Rev. Allin has made an unusually large number of friends not only in his church but in other churches, and he has been active in civic affairs as well as those that pertain solely to the church.

All the friends he has made here are cordially welcome at the Sunday afternoon reception planned.

The membership greatly regrets his leaving. He goes to become director of All Saints college in Vicksburg where his new charge will start July 1.

At this time the rector to succeed Rev. Allin has not been announced.

Parish-Wide Fight On Mosquitoes Set

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury yesterday voted to underwrite costs of a $16,750 parish-wide mosquito-killing program, which eventually will be paid for in full by the federal government.

The parish Health Unit will be in charge of the program. Dr. Carroll Summer, health unit director, appeared before the jurors yesterday afternoon at the special session. He requested that they underwrite the parish-wide program.

It was explained that under the Civil Defense disaster law (act 375) one body with authority to act for the entire parish may request the funds for an emergency, and underwrite the expense until the federal government pays the entire bill.

In approximately six weeks, 60 per cent, or $10,650.00 of the money will be sent in by the federal government to pay the chemicals, labor and equipment used on the

Plant Expansion Abandonment Is Seen From Taxes

BATON ROUGE (AP)—The

Louisiana Manufacturers Assn. (LMA) said Friday increased gas gathering taxes might mean abandonment of plant expansion plans and curtailed employment.

The House Thursday passed and sent to the Senate a bill doubling the one-cent gas gathering tax.

The increase would net an estimated 20 million dollars annually for a teacher pay raise voted in 1956.

"Another round of tax increases in Louisiana will be detrimental to the state's economy," the LMA board of directors said in a statement issued after a meeting here.

"Of all these proposed taxes the gas gathering tax is the most serious threat to industrial expansion, even to maintenance of the present industrial level."

De Gaulle told members of the Public Safety Committee in Oran, one of the most extreme of those set up after the May 13 upheaval,

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

The Navy conducted an apparently successful but short-lived test of a Polaris experimental rocket Friday.

The Polaris—an intermediate range ballistic weapon being developed for launching from nuclear-powered submarines—broke apart high over the Atlantic shortly after takeoff.

After a speedy liftoff, the slender orange-tipped rocket tumbled off its flight course high in the sky.

As it plunged toward the sea, a twisting white vapor stream followed in its wake. The presence of ships in the area indicated that efforts were made to recover the

WM Group Plans Study Of Industry

Stressing "results that are tangible," Hugh Balfour presided over yesterday's meeting of the industrial committee of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Ways to get leads on industries which are seeking new sites was discussed by the group, and it was brought out that West Monroe is not trying to "buy" an industry, by providing a rent-free location, a few months operating expenses and the like, but rather is interested in attracting indus-

Balfour noted that the industrial committee last year wrote 100 letters attempting to attract new industry, but got no results. He pointed out, however, that the new brochures of the city will probably prove helpful in this endeavor.

Willie Pinton and "Lefty" Winters were appointed to gather data which will be sent to industrial prospects, with the available raw materials and related matter classified according to the type of industry it would most appeal to.

Bernon Butler and Bedford Jacka were named to study sites which might be available, and to note these with relation to accessible water, highway and railroad routes.

The committee tentatively set the second Monday in each month at 4 p.m. at the Chamber office as the regular meeting time and place.

LSU Board Will Meet On Measures

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors meets Monday to form policy on legislation affecting the university, in advance of House and Senate meetings.

Set next week are committee hearings on three measures cutting board terms and another to create a single board of higher education to replace both the LSU board and the State Board of Education.

Tuesday the Senate Education Committee hears a proposal by Sen. Brehman Crothers of Ferriday to reduce board members' terms from 14 to 7 years.

Tuesday the House Judiciary B Committee takes up constitutional proposals by Rep. Jesse McLain of St. Tammany Parish cutting terms in half and by Rep. Alton DeNunzio of Avoyelles reducing terms to eight years.

Sen. Rex McCullough's controversial plan to create one board to replace the LSU and state education boards will be aired at a Wednesday meeting of the Senate Education Committee.

Other pending legislation affecting LSU would:

Authorize a 40 million dollar bond issue for an extensive building program at the LSU branch at New Orleans, permitting bonding of revenues from the statewide tax beginning in 1960. This measure is in committee.

Continue the New Orleans branch under LSU, giving it constitutional status. This measure awaits House action.

Ban university entrance fees and hike legislative scholarship funds for legislators, governors and Lt. Governor. This bill is in committee.

Air Force Says Pilots Get Jumpy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said Friday its pilots are getting jumpy and their flying proficiency is affected by the rash of allegations by airlines about near misses from collisions.

A report to Air Force headquarters Friday from investigators of the inspector general's office, working at Norton Air Force Base, Calif., dealt with one of the more recent complaints.

The report also recommended steps to prevent private or commercial aircraft from flying in prohibited military areas. The inspectors said there have been numerous such violations.

Among other things, the report said: "Based upon conversations with tactical jet pilots at George Air Force Base, Calif., investigators note an acute awareness by these pilots of dangers and problems inherent in the mid-air collision" possibility.

The need for caution and the implication of being involved inadvertently in the violation are having an adverse effect upon morale and tactical effectiveness."

The report said that air defense controlled stations equipped with radar, "have noted numerous violations of restricted and prohibited areas by civilian aircraft."

Military Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has asked Congress for an extra $590,023,000 to help finance increases in military pay.

He requested the money for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower signed a military pay increase bill on May 20. The increases went into effect last Sunday.

WIS. TORNADOES

Death Count

Falls To 28

MENOMONIE, Wis. (UPI) — The official death count in the tornadoes which swept northwest Wisconsin fell to 28 Friday.

This Wisconsin dairy region was fighting back from Wednesday night's twisters, but a new tornado threat boiled up in the "cyclone state" of Kansas.

A state highway trooper reported a twister hit Haviland, Kan., and moved a railroad depot one foot off its foundation. The same tornado was reported later, whirling above the ground, at Sylvia, Kan., 30 miles away.

In Wisconsin, one of the 350 persons injured in the Wednesday tornadoes died. But coroner's officials and Red Cross authorities rechecked their death lists and discovered a duplication, a mythical casualty, and a "dead" baby who was still living.

An unidentified dead baby in hospitals still jammed with more than 100 casualties or that new bodies would be found in the wreckage of scores of farm homes.

The four-county "blue diamond" area was getting back on its feet, however.

Donations of clothes, food and money poured into the tornado relief fund of $11,000 was raised within a few hours at Eau Claire and a 12-foot high pile of clothing practically filled the Colfax high school gymnasium near Menomonie.

More than 50 tons of bedding, clothing and food were collected in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, 50 miles from the tornado scene.

Almost 300 National Guardsmen, working with volunteers, made progress at the monumental task of clearing fallen trees and timber from Colfax and other tornado-smashed farm towns. Residents still probed the ruins of their homes for personal belongings and troopers were ordered to guard the roads to keep out sightseers or potential looters.

"People are looking a little more cheerful now," a traveler from Colfax said. "They can even smile and — once in a while — laugh."

The Wadsworth Atheneum in Hartford, Conn., opened in 1912, is America's oldest public art museum.

WM Group Plans Study Of Industry

Stressing "results that are tangible," Hugh Balfour presided over yesterday's meeting of the industrial committee of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Ways to get leads on industries which are seeking new sites was discussed by the group, and it was brought out that West Monroe is not trying to "buy" an industry, by providing a rent-free location, a few months operating expenses and the like, but rather is interested in attracting industry on the merit of the area's raw materials.

New Brochures

Balfour noted that the industrial committee last year wrote 180 letters attempting to attract new industry, but got no results. He pointed out, however, that the new brochures of the city will probably prove helpful in this endeavor.

Willie Pinton and "Lefty" Winters were appointed to gather data which will be sent to industrial prospects, with the available raw materials and related matter classified according to the type of industry it would most appeal to.

Bernon Butler and Beauford Jacka were named to study sites which might be available, and to note these with relation to accessible water, highway and railroad routes.

The committee tentatively set the second Monday in each month at 4 p.m. at the Chamber office as the regular meeting time and place.

LSU Board Will Meet On Measures

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors meets Monday to form policy on legislation affecting the university, in advance of House and Senate meetings.

Set next week are committee hearings on three measures cutting board terms and another to create a single board of higher education to replace both the LSU board and the State Board of Education.

On Tuesday the Senate Education Committee hears a proposal by Sen. Breham Crothers of Ferriday to reduce board member's terms from 14 to 7 years.

Tuesday the House Judiciary B Committee takes up constitutional proposals by Rep. Jessie McLain of St. Tammany Parish cutting terms in half and by Rep. Alton DeNux of Avoyelles reducing terms to eight years.

Sen. Rex McCullough's controversial plan to create one board to replace the LSU and state education boards will be aired at a Wednesday meeting of the Senate Education Committee.

Other pending legislation affecting LSU would:

Authorize a 40 million dollar bond issue for an extensive building program at the LSU branch at New Orleans, permitting bonding of revenues from the statewide beer tax beginning in 1960. This measure is in committee.

Continue the New Orleans branch under LSU, giving it constitutional status. This measure awaits House action.

Ban university entrance fees and hike legislative scholarship funds for legislators, governor and Lt. Governor. This bill is in committee.

Man Is Given

Another Break

By N. Y. Judge

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — For 10 years Giovanni Sardo, 74, took care of his wife, bedridden with a heart ailment. Finally, he could go on no longer.

Last Feb. 2 in their Port Washington home on Long Island, he stabbed 72-year-old Antonio Sardo to death with a knife. Then he used it on himself, inflicting critical wounds.

He said at the time he was "tired of it all."

Sardo recovered from his wound and the state gave him a break. It allowed him to plead guilty to manslaughter, rather than murder, which carries the death penalty.

Friday Nassau County Judge Paul J. Widlitz gave the old man another break. He sentenced him to 5 to 10 years in prison—then suspended the sentence.

Opposition Set In Mont. Race

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Republican Lou W. Welch, 31-year-old political unknown, apparently will oppose the Democratic Sen. A. S. Mike Mansfield in Montana's general election.

Welch, who tried two years ago for a congressional nomination, is a millman for the Anaconda Co.

Complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary give Welch an 82-vote edge over his rival, Mrs. Blanche S. Anderson, 62-year-old Helena widow and grandmother, for the GOP Senate nomination.

An unidentified dead baby in the devastated village of Colfax was revealed to be Leon Lunn, 3, who had previously been listed as a separate casualty. Leon's father, Erling, also died in the tornado and his aunt, Mrs. Rolf Lunn, 21, Colfax, died of her injuries Friday.

Rebecca Pond, the Red Cross's supervisory nurse at Menomonie, said an unidentified truck driver listed as dead at Colfax appeared to be alive or nonexistent. Leon Slaga, a 6-week-old Colfax baby reported dead by Dunn County authorities at Eau Claire's Luther Hospital Thursday night, is alive, Miss Pond said.

There was still a strong possi-

Restrictions On River Boating Activity Eased

Boating may start again tomorrow on the Ouachita River, and cattle will be allowed back on the levees Monday.

This was revealed yesterday at the special Police Jury meeting. A letter from Roy Snider, president of the Tensas Levee Board, said the boating may start Sunday. He requested crafts to stay away from levees where the water is still high.

Unless there is excessive rainfall before Monday, cattle may go back on the levees then. In case of rain which might make the levees soft, farmers are requested to keep their cattle off until the levees dry.

Sanders expressed regret for hardship which may have been caused by keeping the cattle off the levees.

He praised the Sheriff's Office for work in maintaining safety on the levees.

Rites Scheduled For Major Cagle

EL DORADO, Ark. (Special) — Final rites for Maj. Henderson Cagle, 42-year-old graduate of Northeast State College in Monroe, are tentatively set for Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. at the Flannery-Buchannon Mortuary in Indianapolis, Ind.

Maj. Cagle was a football player for Northeast in the late 1930's and has many acquaintances in the Twin Cities.

His death came earlier this week when the Japan-bound C-124 in which he was a passenger crashed shortly after take-off at Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

Maj. Cagle was an Army career man and was stationed at Tachikawa Air Force Base, Japan. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jean Cagle; a son, Steve, and a daughter, Cindy, all in Japan and his mother, Mrs. O. T. Cagle, brother, Otha Cagle, and sister, Mrs. Iris Bornaschella, all of El Dorado, Ark.

Endorse Resolution

"Don't exempt the cities from gas tax." That's the opinion of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, which went on record on its stand yesterday afternoon. During the special meeting, the jurors endorsed a resolution asking Rep. Lawrence Gibbs and Rep. Gilbert Faulk to withdraw a bill which would exempt the cities from the gas tax.

COSTLY PRACTICE
HARTFORD, Conn. — (UPI) — It cost Attorney Snow G. Munford $100 to win $28,135 for a client. His successful argument in one court forced him to be late in another, and he was fined $100 for contempt.

First Man Out Soon

If present plans materialize, the United States will launch a man-driven craft into orbital space in late November of this year. This country may thus become the first nation in history to put a man into outer space, although there is a possibility that Russia will do so before that time.

Regardless of which nation is first to get a man out beyond the earth's atmosphere, it seems amazing to most of us that space travel is contemplated within such a short time and that actual travel to the moon and other planets may be almost upon us.

Authority for the statement that the United States plans to launch a manned space ship this year is the aviation magazine "Flying," which is published and edited in New York, N. Y. by Gill Robb Wilson, former chairman of the board of the Air Force Association. A slim tubular craft will be "the first vehicle to take a human being out of this world and into space," Flying stated. Continuing, the magazine said:

"All indications are that the boosted X-15 will be very close to being a manned satellite. It will be able to achieve and exceed altitudes of 400 miles. Its top speed will be somewhere around 5,000 to 6,000 miles per hour."

The first X-15 prototype will be launched from the bomb bay of a B-52 but it is expected that later models will be launched from the ground, using powerful booster rockets. At 90,000 feet, after being launched from the bomber, the booster will drop away and the rocket's own engine will take over.

Presumably this rocket will be far different from anything yet launched into space in that it will be an actual rocket ship, with its own motor, instead of only the several boosters used on satellites, and will be under the control of the men who ride it. The pilot and sensitive instruments and machinery will be protected by a special refrigeration system.

It has not been revealed how the craft will be brought back into the earth's atmosphere without being burned up, as the satellites have been upon re-entering the atmosphere.

Neither has any announcement been made as to the identity of the man who will make the first flight into outer space. His identity may not be known but it is virtually certain that he will be a high-ranking officer in some branch of the air force.

This will be an adventure which might well be termed greater than any yet known to man.

Taxes As A Gag

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that certain institutional advertising conducted by electric utility companies cannot be considered a legitimate business expense in making out income tax returns. This advertising, for the most part, presents the private enterprise side of the public-vs-private power controversy. One affected company has taken the matter to court.

Newspapers and publishers' organizations throughout the country have protested the ruling in forthright terms. Most of these protests make the significant point that the position of the Internal Revenue Service goes far beyond whether government or private enterprise is to produce and sell us electricity. The very foundation of freedom is at issue.

The Moline, Illinois, Daily Dispatch, sees the matter this way: "The dangers inherent in the Internal Revenue ruling are obvious and multiple. The ruling robs private enterprise of one of its principal forums, or at the very least, limits that forum in effectiveness. The ruling also attempts to draw a very fine line between 'allowable' and 'disallowable' advertising expenditures which would be hard to discern and easy to violate. The ruling can penalize an industry or profession which so attempts to get its story across to the public. But, even worse than all these possible effects, the ruling can deprive the public itself of one of its major sources of information and impair its ability to judge for itself both sides of a controversy involving private business.

"U. S. taxes must never be used as a gag."

Freedom of speech and freedom of communication will lose most of their meaning if, in exercising them, any group is forced to pay a tax penalty. And, if this can be done to one group, it can be done to any other. That is the true significance of the Internal Revenue ruling.

"How interested are you in going to the Moon?"—Title of magazine article. Our interest in going to the moon is considerably less than infinitesimal.

The saying, "The best things in life are free", is true as a rule, but there are some glaring exceptions, one of them being (with respect to Americans) that we have the best government on earth.

No doubt, as the experts maintain, an unhappy childhood leaves scars on a human's personality for life, but many believe an unhappy childhood is preferable to no childhood at all.

There is scarcely any likelihood that the South will form a third party, as it has carefully noted that third parties always run third in an election.

Doctor Discusses Rating Of Various Illness Types

What will your Hooper rating be with your next illness? Hospitals do not make ratings of this kind but it is natural for the personnel to have their likes and dislikes. Youthful, cheerful patients may be preferred to the old and depressed, and the nonaggressive to the demanding.

The patient with a sinus infection will get less attention than the one with a rare or more interesting disease. These attitudes may not be noticeable, especially in hospitals where everyone is cheerful, attentive, and intent on rendering service, regardless of the severity of the illness.

All sick persons tend to regard their ailment as the most important thing in the world. Many regress to childhood thoughts and behavior, and such patients often need more service than the critically ill.

Dr. Bernard C. Meyer reported the following experience in the New York State Journal of Medicine: A 50 year old woman underwent surgery for hemorrhoids, an operation that usually requires four to five days of hospitalization. When the time came to go home, she developed urinary trouble that prolonged her stay by a week.

LAZY OR ILL?

S. W. writes: If you don't feel like working or going any place, how can you decide if you are fatigued or just lazy?

No abnormalities could be found to account for the symptoms and the physician suspected psychological reasons. At first he thought she might be reluctant to return home to a chronically ailing husband who demanded all her energies. But the interview brought another point.

This woman had selected a ward bed, even though financially able to pay for a private room. All the other patients were sicker than she and, of necessity, received more attention and treatment. She blamed herself for choosing the ward just to save a few dollars when she could have been treated like a queen in a private room.

She had not been demanding or a complainer and had become a forgotten patient. Long lines of staff physicians entered and left the ward without paying any attention to her; they spent their time with the cancer and heart patients. This woman responded dramatically to the opportunity to voice her grievances to Dr. Meyer. A few tablets were given to her to save face and she left in a few days, completely recovered.

Re. P. writes: Since my nose was broken several years ago I have some difficulty in breathing through one of the nostrils. Could this be corrected by surgery?

Reply: Yes — by a plastic surgeon who specializes in reconstructing the nose.

EXERCISE TONES MUSCLES Mrs. W. writes: Does walking plenty during pregnancy make labor easier?

Reply: No, but it improves muscular tone and circulation, which in turn improve the pregnant woman's general condition.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Congressman Powell Is Demagogue Among Race

The Negro leaders of the Republican Party, at least one of whom may be responsible for Adam Clayton Powell's income tax troubles, spent most of a day at the New York County Committee Headquarters in the National Republican Club arguing with Thomas J. Curran, chairman, and Mrs. Preston Davie, vice chairman, about nominating a Democrat, who has a long record of left-wing associations, as the Republican candidate for Congress.

It was not that they had been corrupted. It was that they were afraid not to nominate him. They were afraid that they literally would not be able to walk the streets of Harlem if they failed to nominate him. The Democrats, to whom he belongs, threw him over: the Republicans, to whom he never belonged, dared not avoid him.

One Negro Republican leader blamed President Eisenhower for all the troubles. He said that when the Negroes of Harlem thought that Powell had ruined himself, he was made for Powell to come out for Eisenhower in the 1956 election and Powell was given an opportunity to exhibit his strength in his income tax case. Fourteen months went by before the United States attorney in New York did anything in the matter and then only after the Grand Jury threatened to go off on its own. This is something the Senate Judiciary Committee might look into one day.

In the broadest American sense, the Powell case is symptomatic of a frightening situation. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. is first of all a Negro. He has made being a Negro a career and a profession. He is a clergymen and a member of Congress, but most of all, he is a demagogue among his own people. He keeps them stirred up and as long as they are stirred up, he will possess enormous power in New York City. He is a man of superb intelligence who, however, has his own game to play.

In the Negro and Puerto Rican population in New York County can control the election. Such a situation is also developing in Brooklyn and the Bronx. The Puerto Ricans dislike being classified as Negroes which many of them are not, but they are discriminated against socially and economically in this community and they are being forced by circumstances to associate themselves with such a leadership as Powell's. They have produced no real leadership of their own.

Stormy Marriage

Chapter 34
The dinner which followed the toast was fabulous and not a false note marred the excellence of the Kitty Wallace? Why did he seem to be following the same pattern, but David was her son. At her request David was passing the cups, and in his eagerness to please her the cup on its little saucer slipped and fell, splashing hot coffee on Kitty's expensive new dress.

"Planning dinner parties is my hobby," Kitty admitted artlessly. "You are a delightful hostess," Randy said warmly. "That's one of the reasons I'm so devoted to you."

"Are you? Devoted to me, I mean?" Kitty asked as if no one else were there.

Randy glanced at Stormy as if asking her pardon for what he was about to say, but her eyes evaded his. It hurt her to see him playing up to the other woman, trying to convince her of his loyalty even though he had married some one else. Stormy thought miserably, "Maybe he's sorry he married me. Maybe he's told her to be patient, it will take a little time, but eventually he will obtain his freedom."

She didn't really believe that, but there was something between her husband and Grandma which she could not understand. Some secret loyalty which even marriage to someone else could not destroy. Stormy had come to Kitty's party because Randy had announced his intention of going without her if necessary. How dictated could a husband be?

Stormy hoped they could leave early, but it was after ten when they left the table. Coffee was served in the living room. Although it was June the Japanese deposited the heavy silver tray with its precious load of small Dresden cups and saucers on a table before the fireplace. It was June, but cold enough to make the small fire welcome. Kitty took her place behind the coffee pot and the white-coated one withdrew.

"Oriental servants must be handled with care," Kitty said after he had quietly disappeared. "They can be the most loyal or the most despotic servants,"

Kitty sighed. "They contribute more to one's comfort, than any other factor

Randy who had taken the place on the davenport beside her said, pleasantly, "Everyone is not so fortunate as you are."

Kitty was filling one of the little cups. "Fortunate in what way?" she inquired.

Randy smiled at Stormy in her chair across the room. "Financially, of course. How many people do you know who can afford a couple of servants since the war?"

Kitty smiled. They sounded as if they had been married for years. And in spite of her determination not to do so, Stormy represented it. Was Randy afraid of me? Why did he seem to be following the same pattern, but David was her son. At her request David was passing the cups, and in his eagerness to please her the cup on its little saucer slipped and fell, splashing hot coffee on Kitty's expensive new dress.

"I'm sorry," David apologized, but it was Randy who whisked a folded handkerchief from his pocket and mopped up the hot liquid.

"I hope it didn't burn you," the boy said anxiously.

"Nothing is hurt except my new dress," Kitty said ruefully. "I shouldn't have asked you to help. You are as clumsy as your father."

David's face was white. With another word he left the room. Elsa ran after him and Randy said, "You shouldn't say things like that, Kitty. You know he adored his father."

"I ought to know it. I've heard about it often enough," Kitty retorted. "But if he's going to live with me he'll have to stop being so sensitive."

She tried to resume her role of hostess but the evening was ruined for everyone. David did not return but Elsa came to the doorway long enough to state that David was driving her home.

When her father protested that he would be leaving soon she cried, "I'm not interested in what you do. I'm going with David."

The silence was as awkward as a baby's first steps. Each of the three tried to say something impersonal, but the most casual remark seemed weighted. Stormy thought it was her presence which made it impossible to speak naturally. She wished that she had gone with David and Elsa. She did not feel it was up to her to suggest leaving. What really upset her was that she, Randy's wife, was the outsider. The other two would have had plenty to say if they had been alone.

Stormy could have wept with gratitude when Randy glanced at his watch and said, "I didn't realize it was so late. I'm sorry we didn't accomplish our purpose, Kitty. If David is interested you'd better tell him to make an appointment with me at the office."

"Via your secretary, I presume."

"That is customary," he replied. "But if he's going to be a success in any business, he'll have to control his temper!"

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Earl K. Long said Friday Rep. Walter Chachere, Franklin parish lawmaker who died of a heart attack Thursday night, will be missed.

But the death of Chachere, a resident of Crowley, who was elected to the House as an independent candidate, has posed a question on the two-thirds vote required to pass a tax bill.

Long said he hasn't made up his mind to appoint a replacement for the late representative.

"If the people of that parish were to bring enough pressure to convince me that they need representation, I might go along with an appointment, even though it is my conviction that one should not be made," Long said.

Dr. Ralph E. King, Winnsboro Senator, said, prior to leaving Baton Rouge for home Friday, that he will confer with Franklin citizens over the weekend before talking to Long about Chachere's vacancy.

Long said he criticized Gov. Robert K. Kennon when he appointed Risley Triche of Napoleonville to replace the late Clarence Savoye in 1955. Triche is still a member of the House.

The late Huey P. Long appointed several members of the House prior to a special session during his term. Several other members have died while the legislature was in session.

Section eight 1921 constitution states: "should a vacancy occur in either House, the governor shall order an election to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term."

Chachere was elected on an independent ballot in 1956 following a contest in which he failed to get the Democratic nomination. He later opposed the Democratic nominee, Lantz Womack and was elected. His most important role in the House was chairman of the illegitimacy committee.

"His many friends and those who depended on his help will miss him and are grieved at his untimely passing," Long stated.

Chachere, who left Baton Rouge Thursday afternoon for a weekend recess of the legislature, died in a Winnsboro clinic early Thursday night of a heart attack.

He had been in ill health and during the past week showed the effects of the pressing tax fight.

His death came one day after the House barely passed the controversial one-cent increase in the gas gathering tax. The vote

First Man Out Soon

If present plans materialize, the United States will launch a man-driven craft into orbital space in late November of this year. This country may thus become the first nation in history to put a man into outer space, although there is a possibility that Russia will do so before that time.

Regardless of which nation is first to get a man out beyond the earth's atmosphere, it seems amazing to most of us that space travel is contemplated within such a short time and that actual travel to the moon and other planets may be almost upon us.

Authority for the statement that the United States plans to launch a manned space ship this year is the aviation magazine "Flying," which is published and edited in New York, N. Y. by Gill Robb Wilson, former chairman of the board of the Air Force Association. A slim tubular craft will be "the first vehicle to take a human being out of this world and into space," Flying stated. Continuing, the magazine said:

"All indications are that the boosted X-15 will be very close to being a manned satellite. It will be able to achieve and exceed altitudes of 400 miles. It's top speed will be somewhere around 5,000 to 6,000 miles per hour."

The first X-15 prototype will be

Taxes As A Gag

can deprive the public itself of one of its major sources of information and impair its ability to judge for itself both sides of a controversy involving private business.

"U. S. taxes must never be used as a gag."

Freedom of speech and freedom of communication will lose most of their meaning if, in exercising them, any group is forced to pay a tax penalty. And, if this can be done to one group, it can be done to any other. That is the true significance of the Internal Revenue ruling.

"How interested are you in going to the Moon?"—Title of magazine article. Our interest in going to the moon is considerably less than infinitesimal.

The saying, "The best things in life are free", is true as a rule, but there are some glaring exceptions, one of them being (with respect to Americans) that we have the best government on earth.

No doubt, as the experts maintain, an unhappy childhood leaves scars on a human's personality for life, but many believe an unhappy childhood is preferable to no childhood at all.

There is scarcely any likelihood that the South will form a third party, as it has carefully noted that third parties always run third in an election.

Doctor Discusses Rating Of Various Illness Types

What will your Hooper rating be with your next illness? Hospital patients do not make ratings of this kind but it is natural for the personnel to have their likes and dislikes. Youthful, cheerful patients may be preferred to the old and depressed, and the nonaggressive to the demanding.

The patient with a sinus infection will get less attention than the one with a rare or more interesting disease. These attitudes may not be noticeable, especially in hospitals where everyone is cheerful, attentive, and intent on rendering service, regardless of the severity of the illness.

All sick persons tend to regard their ailment as the most important thing in the world. Many regress to childhood thoughts and behavior, and such patients often need more service than the critically ill.

Dr. Bernard C. Meyer reported the following experience in the New York State Journal of Medicine: A 58 year old woman underwent surgery for hemorrhoids, an operation that usually requires four to five days of hospitalization. When the time came to go home, she developed urinary trouble that prolonged her stay by a week.

No abnormalities could be found to account for the symptoms and the physician suspected psycholo-

There are many physical causes for fatigue and the answer depends upon what a physical examination discloses. In my book, laziness begins in childhood and does not come and go.

NOT BALANCED

M. J. writes: Would meals containing meat, milk, cooked fruit, bread, and butter supply all the elements needed in the diet?

No, as this diet does not supply vitamin C. If you add fresh fruits and vegetables, as well as eggs, you will be obtaining the basic seven.

NASAL SURGERY

R. P. writes: Since my nose was broken several years ago I have some difficulty in breathing through one of the nostrils. Could this be corrected by surgery?

Yes — by a plastic surgeon who specializes in reconstructing the nose.

Mrs. W. writes: Does walking plenty during pregnancy make labor easier?

Reply

No, but it improves muscular tone and circulation, which in turn improve the pregnant woman's general condition.

She had not been demanding or a complainer and had become a forgotten patient. Long lines of staff physicians entered and left the ward without paying any attention to her; they spent their time with the cancer and heart patients. This woman responded dramatically to the opportunity to voice her grievances to Dr. Meyer. A few tablets were given to her to save face and she left in a few days, completely recovered.

S. W. writes: If you don't feel like working or going any place, how can you decide if you are fatigued or just lazy?

Or Haul A Heavier Load?

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Congressman Powell Is Demagogue Among Race

The Negro leaders of the Republican Party, at least one of whom may be responsible for the tax troubles, spent most of a day at the New York County Committee Headquarters in the National Republican Club arguing with Thomas J. Curran, chairman, and Mrs. Preston Davie, vice chairman, about nominating a Democrat, who has a long record of left-wing associations, as the Republican candidate for Congress in Harlem.

One Negro Republican leader blamed President Eisenhower for all the troubles. He said that when the Negroes of Harlem thought that Powell had ruined himself, a deal was made for Powell to come out for Eisenhower in the 1956 election and Powell was given an opportunity to exhibit his strength in his income tax case. Fourteen months went by before the United States attorney in New York did anything in the matter and then only after the Grand Jury threatened to go off on its own. This is something the Senate Judiciary Committee might look into one day.

In the broadest American sense, the Powell case is symptomatic of a frightening situation. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. is first of all a Negro. He has made being a Negro a career and a profession. He is a clergyman and a member of Congress, but most of all, he is a demagogue among his own people. He keeps them stirred up and as long as they are stirred up, he will possess enormous power in New York City. He is a man of superb intelligence who, however, has his own game to play.

The Negro and Puerto Rican population in New York County can control the election. Such a situation is also developing in Brooklyn and the Bronx. The Puerto Ricans dislike being classified as Negroes which many of them are not, but they are discriminated against socially and economically in this community and they are being forced by circumstances to associate themselves with such a leadership as Powell's. They have produced no equal leadership of their own.

New York City is normally Democratic. Its leadership has moved from Irish to Italian. The Republican Party is moribund and lacks leadership altogether; it exists only on patronage, relationships and similar perquisites that are exclusively advantageous to lawyers. Most of the kind of people usually Republican in Northern cities, live and vote in the suburbs, some even in other states like Connecticut and New Jersey where the tax situations are preferable.

I have long estimated that the next mayor of New York might be a Negro. It lies in the votes and in the balance of power. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. has established it as a political fact that he is above party; that if his own party rejects him, he can take over another. He has established it beyond cavil, that he has taken over the Republican Party in New York County because what occurred at the meeting of the Advisory Committee which opposed him unanimously in public, was that those who are most ambitious wanted to endorse him, and were caught in a political device and were forced to vote as they did. They protested, however. The reason they were ready to support Powell was that they thought Powell might support one of their own as the candidate for governor. This argument only proved the development of Powell's power.

The methods employed by Powell are new here. They are organized mass pressures on racial issues. In a word, if Powell is indicted in an income tax case, the entire Negro race is indicted; if Powell is rejected for a nomination, the entire Negro race is rejected. Powell, with diabolical brilliance, has so associated himself with the Negroes that he has become the symbol of race consciousness. This is something very new and frighteningly dangerous in American life.

Miller retains any military characteristics, it is due to his strong concept of duty. During the 83rd Congress when the Republicans held an eyelash majority in the House of Representatives, Miller was offered the seat on the Federal bench in Baltimore that was being vacated. As a small town and country lawyer, he had always looked forward to ending his career in a judgeship. But Speaker Joe Martin and Republican National Chairman Leonardi Hall appealed to him on the grounds that his withdrawal from Congress might upset the Republican majority there. Much as he wanted to go to the bench, Miller decided. He also decided not to muddy the waters by making a primary fight for the gubernatorial nomination. He declined to oppose Devereux on the grounds that a minority party ought to stick together.

Miller is a member of the Appropriations Subcommittee for the Department of Defense and for Foreign Operations. This means that he is close to the purse strings for military spending. It is a group which has consistently raised the President's request for specific arms, such as B-52 bombers and Polaris firing submarines. But it has also consistently refused to give the President or the Secretary of Defense additional powers of switching funds among the armed services. This power, of course, would greatly increase the authority of the military in this country.

Unlike other highly-armed nations, the USA has no real fear of its own military strength. One reason could be that we produce military men like Devereux and Miller, soldierly pillars of civilian government.

Personal Reasons Start Divorces

over one's head. "In my own wide practice," Dr. Freud concluded, "I find that sexual problems are the chief cause of unhappy homes, so I shall focus on that point by experienced clergymen, physicians and other Marriage Counselors.

The younger men may argue the point, but within a few years they are overwhelmed by the sheer mass of data which drives them right back into agreement with Dr. Freud or myself and others.

Caustic Critics

Occasionally, a caustic critic will write to an editor denouncing me and saying "Dr. Crane is all wrong".

Maybe that is true, but most of these critics come back a few years later to apologize, just as Joel has done in today's case.

For I have had 35 years of counseling experience, both as a psychologist (Ph. D.) and a physician (M.D.).

And the mail service via this syndicated newspaper column pulls 1,000 letters DAILY. So I have had a vast amount of experience to back me up.

Actually, I like to prod indolent readers into rearing upon their psychological haunches. I admit sometimes "bait" you on.

"When two men in a business always agree," said the late William Wrigley, Jr., "then one of them is unnecessary."

It is debate and conflict that sift the wheat from the chaff. Just be sure you are quoting me correctly, however, before you start your quarrel with me.

Many people, Don Quixote fashion, misquote me to fit their own bias and then boldly try to demolish my reputed remark.

Actually, moreover, Dr. Freud was unfairly accused. He did not say that sex is the only motive force in life nor even the greatest.

Learn to be accurate readers. Get correct data at the start. Then you can debate with me all you wish and I'll relish it.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Building Ego Is Called Bad Way

NEW YORK (AP) — Many a some new fellow at your office would-be June bride won't be this year.

The reason in many cases will be very simple—and her own fault: She will waste her time building up her suitor's ego.

This is all wrong. The best way for her to bring a reluctant bachelor to the point of marriage is to tear him down.

Which you cheerfully do. You may be getting a human wreck for a husband—a wreck you made yourself — and your conscience may trouble you a bit. But remember, you've got the rest of your life to build your new husband back into manhood again.

For where two or three are gathered together in My name there am I in the midst of them. — Matthew 18:20.

We are sometimes discouraged because religious services are not more largely attended. When this happens, we should remember that Christ Himself has promised faithful attendance where even a few meet to do His work and His will. But there is strength and enthusiasm in numbers and tomorrow offers another opportunity to demonstrate our convictions and faithfulness in religious matters. We can therefore help ourselves and others in devoted, humble worship tomorrow.

Merciful God, our Father, may Thy spirit lead all of us to faithful service and worship in Thy sanctuaries. In the name of Thy Son we pray. Amen.

AUGUSTA, Me. — (UPI) — The education department of the State of Maine will experiment with educational television in the next academic year. Three commercial television stations have agreed to carry a weekly music instruction course during school hours starting in September. Television sets will be installed in classrooms in towns whose schools have no regular music teacher.

Stormy Marriage

By Vida Hurst

Chapter 24
The dinner which followed the toast was fabulous and not a false note marred the excellence of the food which had been planned, cooked and served with simple elegance.

"Planning dinner parties is my hobby," Kitty admitted artlessly. "You are a delightful hostess," Randy said warmly. "That's one of the reasons I'm so devoted to you."

"Are you? Devoted to me, I mean?" Kitty asked as if no one else were there.

Randy glanced at Stormy as if asking her pardon for what he was about to say, but her eyes evaded his. It hurt her to see him playing up to the other woman, trying to convince her of his loyalty even though he had married some one else. Stormy thought miserably, "Maybe he's sorry he married me. Maybe he's told a little to be patient, it will take a little time, but eventually he will obtain his freedom."

She didn't really believe that, but there was something between her husband and Grandma which she could not understand. Some secret loyalty which even marriage to someone else could not destroy. Stormy had come to Kitty's party because Randy had announced his intention of going without her if necessary. How did that could a husband be?

Stormy hoped they could leave early, but it was after ten when they left the table. Coffee was served in the living room. Although it was June the Japanese deposited the heavy silver tray with its precious load of small Dresden cups and saucers on a table before the fireplace. It was June, but cold enough to make the small fire welcome. Kitty took her place behind the coffee pot and the white-coated one withdrew.

"Oriental servants must be handled with care," Kitty said after he had quietly disappeared. "They can be the most loyal or the most despicable servants," Kitty sighed. "They contribute more to one's comfort, than any other factor . . ."

Randy who had taken the place on the davenport beside her said, pleasantly, "Everyone is not so pleasant as you are."

Kitty was filling one of the little cups. "Fortunate in what way?" she inquired.

Randy smiled at Stormy in her chair across the room. "Financially, of course. How many people do you know who can afford a couple of servants since the war?"

Kitty smiled. They sounded as if they had been married for

AFTER CHACHERE'S DEATH

Governor In Doubt On Filling Post

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Earl K. Long said Friday Rep. Walter Chacheré, Franklin parish lawmaker who died of a heart attack Thursday night, will be missed.

But the death of Chacheré, a resident of Crowville who was elected to the House as an independent candidate has posed a question on the two-thirds vote required to pass a tax bill.

Long said he hasn't made up his mind to appoint a replacement for the late representative.

"If the people of that parish were to bring enough pressure to convince me that they need representation, I might go along with an appointment, even though it is my conviction that one should not be made," Long said.

Dr. Ralph E. King, Winniboro Senator, said, prior to leaving Baton Rouge for home Friday, that he will confer with Franklin citizens over the weekend before talking to Long about Chacheré's vacancy.

Long said he criticized Gov. King. If King when he appointed Risley Triche of Napoleonville to replace the late Clarence Savoie in 1955. Triche is still a member of the House.

The late Huey P. Long appointed several members of the House prior to a special session during his term. Several other members have died while the legislature was in session.

Section eight 1921 constitution states: "should a vacancy occur in either House, the governor shall order an election to fill such vacancy for the remainder of the term."

Chacheré was elected on an independent ballot in 1956 following a hassel in which he failed to get the Democratic nomination. He later opposed the Democratic nominee, Lantz Womack and was elected. His most important role in the House was chairman of the illegitimacy committee.

Long said Chacheré had a "Host of friends among those who knew him best, who believed in him and could not be swayed from that opinion."

"His many friends and those who depended on his help will miss him and are grieved at his untimely passing," Long stated.

Chacheré, who left Baton Rouge Thursday afternoon for a weekend recess of the legislature, died in Winniboro's clinic early Thursday night of a heart attack.

He had been in ill health and during the past week showed the effects of the pressing tax fight.

His death came one day after the House barely passed the controversial one-cent increase in the gas gathering tax. The vote of block 1 of T. F. Terzia's 2nd addition to Monroe to Harold O. Norman for $13,500.

Edward Bilberry sold lot 3 of block 25 of Renwick addition for $2,300.

Evers Lee Johnson sold lot 8 for $2,300.

Pastor's Son

Killed As Car Hits Oak Tree

FOREST, Miss. (AP) — Gilbert Oliver, Jr., 17, son of the Forest Methodist pastor, was killed shortly before noon Friday when he lost control of his car on Old Highway 35 and it crashed into a big oak tree.

Patrolmen said the boy was driving the family car and apparently lost control in loose gravel about three miles north of Forest. The car almost wrapped itself around the tree.

With his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Oliver, and younger brother, Scott, the boy moved to Forest a year ago from Mendenhall where Dr. Oliver was pastor of the Mendenhall Church.

Bills Handled By Gov. Long Are Reported

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Earl K. Long Friday announced signing of a bill designating a Negro trade school the New Orleans area vocational and technical school.

Another measure signed by the governor would create a city court in Abbeville. The two became act three and four.

First bills signed by the governor were the appropriation for legislative expense and his bill dealing the congressional primaries.

The governor also endorsed a constitutional amendment increasing the debt limitation of the board of commissioners of the Port of New Orleans from 35 million dollars to 95 million.

The legislative acts will become law in 20 days after the July 10 end of the 60-day session. The constitutional amendment must be ratified by popular vote next fall.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Crowville Baptist Church with Rev. T. C. Smith officiating. Crowville American Legion Post will conduct military services.

The body will lie in state at the church from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m.

Mulhearn Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Born in Lafayette, Mr. Chacheré attended elementary and secondary schools in New Orleans and Alexandria. He attended the Little Rock College at Little Rock, Ark., and later did special work at Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette.

He entered the U. S. Army January 25, 1916, with the Arkansas National Guard and saw service on the Mexican Border. During World War I he served with the famous Third Marine Division and was discharged August 19, 1922 as sergeant major.

Rep. Chacheré was well-known in the American Legion and VFW circles. He had held district as well as state chairmanships in both organizations. He was the originator of the $1,000 American Legion school award and the first state chairman of the VFW school award. He served 15 years as commander of the Crowville American Legion Post and stepped down when he was elected representative since the rules forbid a government employee holding office.

He was a civic leader and a member of the Crowville Baptist Church.

Manufacturing

Jobs Up In Miss.

ATLANTA (AP) — Mississippi was the only southeastern state to show an increase in manufacturing employment from March to April this year, the U. S. Department of Labor said Friday.

Mississippi's manufacturing workers rose from 105,400 in March to 106,100 in April, an increase of .7 of one per cent, the department's southeastern office reported.

Decreases in other states ranged from 1.3 per cent in South Carolina to 5.3 per cent in Georgia.

SURVIVAL BATTLE

Cotton Fight Is Outlined At Meet

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — M. K. Horne Jr., the chief economist of the National Cotton Council, told the American Cotton Congress Friday that the cotton industry's fight for survival against synthetic fabrics hinges on price, quality and promotion.

Horne, of Memphis, Tenn., also told delegates to the congress that the industry has "a kind of built-in mechanism of guaranteed defeat."

Horne spoke at a morning session of the congress which switched locations Friday from Harlingen to Brownsville. Delegates were to tour the pink bollworm center here Friday afternoon and then return to Harlingen.

Horne said an ample supply of cotton must be maintained or else the price would skyrocket and quality would be missing. If such a situation arises there would be no need to promote a product that could not be delivered.

The Memphis cotton expert rapped the expected cut in national acreage allotments. He said "if the market is weak, we may have ample supplies for it" despite the cut in acreage.

But "if the market expands — as it has to expand — it may get slapped back by short supplies and zooming prices."

Horne said under the present acreage allotment law, he expects the secretary of agriculture to cut acreage from 17,600,000 acres to 14 million acres in 1959. He said this would cut the acreage of the average cotton farmer 20 per cent.

"This would be a damaging blow to our whole production system and at the same time would be a most damaging blow to our markets," Horne said.

Chapter 34
The dinner which followed the toast was fabulous and not a false note marred the excellence of the food which had been planned, cooked and served with simple elegance.

"Planning dinner parties is my hobby," Kitty admitted artlessly. "You are a delightful hostess," Randy said warmly. "That's one of the reasons I'm so devoted to you."

"Are you? Devoted to me, I mean?" Kitty asked as if no one else were there.

Randy glanced at Stormy as if asking her pardon for what he was about to say, but her eyes evaded his. It hurt her to see him playing up to the other woman, trying to convince her of his loyalty even though he had married some one else. Stormy thought miserably, "Maybe he's sorry he married me. Maybe he's told her to be patient, it will take a little time, but eventually he will obtain his freedom."

She didn't really believe that, but there was something between her husband and Grandma which she could not understand. Some secret loyalty which even marriage to someone else could not destroy. Stormy had come to Kitty's party because Randy had announced his intention of going without her if necessary. How dictatorial could a husband be?

Stormy hoped they could leave early, but it was after ten when they left the table. Coffee was served in the living room. Although it was June the Japanese deposited the heavy silver tray with its precious load of small Dresden cups and saucers on a table before the fireplace. It was June, but cold enough to make the small fire welcome. Kitty took her place behind the coffee pot and the white - coated one withdrew.

"Oriental servants must be handled with care," Kitty said after he had quietly disappeared. "They can be the most loyal or the most despicable servants," Kitty sighed. "They contribute more to one's comfort, than any other factor . . ."

Randy who had taken the place on the davenport beside her said, pleasantly, "Everyone is not so fortunate as we are."

Kitty was filling one of the little cups. "Fortunate in what way?" she inquired.

Randy smiled at Stormy in her chair across the room. "Financially, of course. How many people do you know who can afford a couple of servants since the war?"

Kitty smiled. They sounded as if they had been married for

Pastoral Changes Reported

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Sixty-nine changes in pastoral assignments were disclosed by Bishop Marvin A. Franklin Friday as the North Mississippi Methodist Conference ended its 80th annual meeting.

The conference voted to accept the invitation of the Rev. W. L. Robinson that the 1959 meeting be held at Columbus' First Methodist Church next June.

Major assignment change was appointment of the Rev. E. M. Sharp, pastor of Greenwood's First Methodist Church, as superintendent of the Cleveland District, succeeding Dr. J. D. Wroten Sr., Cleveland, who has retired.

Named to succeed Sharp at Greenwood was the Rev. Archie L. Meadows of Oxford-University Church. The Rev. Blanton M. Doggett, Indiana pastor, was assigned to the Oxford-University Church and New Albany's First Church pastor, the Rev. W. L. Pearson, becomes pastor at Indianola.

David's face was white. Without another word he left the room. Elsa ran after him and Randy said, "You shouldn't say things like that, Kitty. You are as clumsy as your father."

"I ought to know it. I've heard about it often enough," Kitty retorted. "But if he's going to live with me he'll have to stop being like that."

She tried to resume her role of hostess but the evening was ruined for everyone. David did not return but Elsa came to the doorway long enough to state that David was driving her home.

When her father protested that he would be leaving soon she cried, "I'm not interested in what you do. I'm going with David."

The silence was as awkward as a baby's first steps. Each of the three tried to say something impersonal, but the most casual remark seemed weighted. Stormy thought it was her presence which made it impossible to speak naturally. She wished that she had gone with David and Elsa. She did not feel it was up to her to suggest leaving. What really upset her was that she, Randy's wife, was the outsider. The other two would have had plenty to say if they had been alone.

Stormy could have wept with gratitude when Randy glanced at his watch and said, "I didn't realize it was so late. I'm sorry we didn't accomplish our purpose, Kitty. If David is interested you'd better tell him to make an appointment with me at the office."

"Via your secretary, I presume."

"That is customary," he replied. "But if he's going to be a success in any business, he'll have to control his temper!"

Macmillan On Crippled Ship

(Continued From First Page) showed a need for extensive repairs. Macmillan was accompanied by his wife, Lady Dorothy, and nine personal and political aides. Before leaving, he told reporters at the airport: "It is a very good moment, I think, to talk things over in an informal and friendly way with my old friend the President of the United States and with the Prime Minister of Canada. I don't intend to have formal conferences but just to meet and talk over the different problems of the day. That is in my view a much easier way than messages and telegrams."

Many Suggest Methods To Recover Ring

"I've had a lot of suggestions on how to recover that ring and if I get one more, I think I'll leave town!"

Mrs. Ruth Davis, electro cardiograph technician at a local hospital, said last night that all her efforts to recover a $300 wedding ring she swallowed yesterday were in vain, so far, she added.

Mrs. Davis, had a habit of placing the ring between her lips when she washed her hands. Yesterday she followed the usual procedure.

But this time she sneezed, the ring fell to the floor.

She picked it up, replaced it, coughed, inhaled and swallowed the wedding band.

Many Calls

"This phone has been ringing off the wall with calls from friends and fellow workers suggesting ways to recover it. Some practical suggestions, but most of them humorous."

Mrs. Davis, the wife of Maj. Jack Davis, chief of Monroe Police Department Traffic Division, said she called her husband after the accident and told him she had a surprise for him when he got home. Maybe, she told him, you'll read about it in the paper.

He did, but accepted the shock good naturedly.

Mrs. Davis was philosophical about the accident and said she was sure the ring would be recovered.

"But," she said, "I'll never put it in my mouth again."

Pharmaceutical Group Selects Officers Here

Wirt Rogers of Bastrop was elected president of the Fifth District Pharmaceutical Association at a recent meeting held here.

Joe Maggio and John C. Tropea, both of Monroe, were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Named to the board of directors were Dr. Cecil Headlee, professor of pharmacology at Northeast State; Alvin Bodan, Monroe; Bruce Evans, West Monroe; Dr. Frank Martin, professor of pharmacy at Northeast State, and Walter Pierson, Bastrop.

Auto Fire Quickly Extinguished Here

An automobile fire was quickly quenched yesterday when fire engine 102 answered a call at the corner of Pecan and South Third Streets.

Mrs. C. A. Roddy, driver of the car, said the blaze was confined to the engine compartment. Firemen said the fire was caused by a leaky carburetor.

No estimate of the damages had been prepared.

Monroe Buys New Mosquito Fog Machine

A new $1250 mosquito fogging machine was purchased by the City of Monroe yesterday and put into operation on the south side last night, while the old machine was killing mosquitoes on the north side of Monroe.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard announced purchase of the dynamo machine at the special meeting of the Police Jury.

A new schedule for fogging the city will be drawn up Monday, and twice as many areas will be covered each day under the new set-up.

At the police jury meeting, which underwrote cost of a parish-wide anti-mosquito program, Mayor Howard and Mayor J. Allen Norris outlined what is currently being done in Monroe and West Monroe.

Howard pointed out that a fogging machine has been in operation here for the last two months, and is working on a 18-hour a day basis.

Barrel A Week

"Two machines will use a barrel of insecticides a week, with each barrel costing about $550. We're doing all we can—if the wind blows mosquitoes into the city, we have to fight them too," he stated.

F. G. Studdard, police juryman from Ward One, humorously replied that the outlying areas would "do all we can" to get the mosquitoes blown into the city.

Mayor Norris explained that a machine mounted on a truck is fogging West Monroe 12 hours daily. "We've used over 2,000 gallons of spray, and as soon as we kill one mosquito, three more comes in to take it's place."

"We need help—the parish-wide plan proposed by the Health Unit is a worthy project," Norris added.

Last night, Mayor Howard explained that Monroe is carrying on its fogging operation on its own, without any chance of being backed by the federal government for the work done.

The parish-wide project which will be handled by the Health Department was described by Mayor Howard as one which will benefit both the parish and the cities.

French Chief Gets Support From Algeria

"You must be models of loyalty and discipline," he said. "I trust you to be that and nothing else. You must not encroach or substitute yourselves for the established authorities."

"Your job is to influence public opinion and to help speed up the integration of spirits," De Gaulle said. "You have no more revolutions to make, because you have done it once and one does not make revolutions every day."

Agree To Follow

The general's remarks to the Oran committee were disclosed to newsmen afterwards.

Although rightists expressed disappointment in De Gaulle because he did not appear willing to go as far as they wanted in dealing with the Algerian crisis and in smashing the "Fourth Republic" in Paris, the super safety committee agreed that it would follow him.

Neuwirth said "details of our future policy" would be decided at a meeting of the committee Saturday.

The Algiers committee is run by Jacques Soustelle, a rightist National Assembly deputy, Gen. Jacques Massu and Moslem Sid Cara.

Defendant Had 3 Bullet Slugs In His Body

NEW YORK (AP)—A defendant stunned Bronx Magistrate's Court Friday by calmly announcing he had three bullet slugs in his body.

"Get him out of here," ordered Magistrate Joseph A. Martin. After the man showed he had slugs in the side of his head, chest and forearm.

The defendant, Burleett Griswold, a 23-year-old Negro, was taken to a hospital.

He was wounded May 24 in a bar brawl during which he allegedly stabbed another man with a nail file.

He was in court for arraignment on felonious assault charges.

Bloc Meeting Is Requested

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Tunisia and Morocco Friday asked for a meeting of the Asian-African bloc to consider putting the whole North African problem before the U.N. General Assembly this fall.

The action was initiated by Algerian nationalist representatives here. They said they will insist on bringing the question of Algerian independence before the 81st session of the General Assembly despite the latest pronouncements by French Premier Charles de Gaulle. De Gaulle promised equal rights for Algerians and Frenchmen in Algeria.

Amendments To Correct Mistake Being Planned

(Continued From First Page) ous language in the Holt amendments and immediately consulted a number of attorneys, representatives, senators and administration officials for their views on the bill.

As amended by Holt, the bill now provides that "proceeds shall be used to pay the increases authorized by law in the salaries of teachers in public schools and of school bus drivers in this state, and also to provide the necessary funds to maintain the salaries paid during 1957-1958 to school lunch employees and janitors, supervisors,

Rep. Ford Sinson of Bossier Parish, an anti-tax legislator, said from his home in Benton "I don't know what it means, it looks like trouble. I don't have a copy of the bill with me, but I will certainly look into it as soon as I get back to Baton Rouge."

Sen. Robert B. Ainsworth Jr. of New Orleans said he "was not sure" he could agree with several attorneys working in the Capitol contacted by UPI that the bill actually "gives the school teachers no dedication whatever."

"I would have to study it, but if it does, I would just as soon not mention it and let it pass that way," Ainsworth said.

Tugwell and Rester agreed that inasmuch as the bill provides for funds to maintain the salaries of teachers in public schools and of school bus drivers in this state, and also to provide the necessary funds to maintain the salaries paid during 1957-1958 to school lunch employees and janitors, supervisors,

It means principals, superintendents, janitors and others would be assured of their 1958 salary level, and the teachers and school bus drivers would only be assured of their 1956 level—the floor of the two minimum salary schedules—Acts 3 and 112 of 1956.

Attorneys also questioned the wording of the amendment pertaining to paying the "increases authorized by law." It could open the way for a court fight to determine whether or not school teachers and bus drivers would get anything from the tax, or it would spill into the State Treasury.

Their reasoning, boiled down, is that the present salary law is Act 3 and Act 112—which is a minimum salary schedule. It provides for pay raises through increments for years experience and other factors. But nowhere in the acts is the word "increases" used or provided for.

"Even though the intention is to give the money to school teachers, it could pave the way for court litigation—and only the courts can decide the intent of the legislature," one attorney said.

As originally drafted the bill provides for a two cent hike and proceeds to pay "up to but not to exceed one half of the increase in teacher's salaries provided by Act 3 of 1956, etc." The administration and school teacher's claim that they need $34 million to maintain their salaries at present level.

Sliced back to one cent, the bill if enacted would bring in approximately $20 million. "It will still be $14 million short of providing enough money to maintain teachers pay, but we will find the funds somewhere," Holt said.

UPI asked Holt for his reasoning behind amending the portion of the bill providing for the distribution of the funds. It was pointed out to him there was no apparent reason to amend the distribution section if the "intent is to maintain teacher's pay as closely as possible" since the full collection will still fall $14 million short of exceeding "one half of the increase in teacher's salaries provided by Act 3 of 1956, etc."

"We were just in a rush," Holt said. "It was a hurried amendment."

Slater's Low Budget Brings On Criticism

The reluctance over the years of President Lewis C. Slater of Northeast State College to request a budget deemed sufficiently high to meet the needs of a growing senior college has resulted in outspoken protest among the college's faculty members.

Official records released by the state board of education show that last year's budget at Northeast was far below that of other state colleges in Louisiana, including two other colleges with smaller enrollments.

Northeast's budget for the past few years has reflected a similar condition and has brought repeated criticism of Slater.

However, until recently teachers at the college have been reluctant to discuss their widespread dissatisfaction. It has been announced that Slater will be forced by the state board to retire as of June 30, after his 65th birthday.

This week the board revealed that it had denied Slater's request that he be permitted to remain on the campus in some capacity other than president.

In spite of the low budget for the 1957-58 school year, a surplus of $250,000 is reportedly still on hand and must be used by June 30 or returned to the state.

Department heads at the college are allegedly concerned over a recent comment by Slater that he is considering returning the money to the state. The faculty heads are hoping the money will be spent for needed equipment.

Maurice Mercer Is Recovering After Surgery

Maurice Mercer, 26, of Grayson was termed by hospital sources last night as doing "all right." Mercer underwent surgery on his neck which was broken in four places in an automobile accident near Columbia Thursday.

Hospital attendants said Mercer would remain in a suspended position for six weeks. The other occupants of the car which spun out of control after a tire blew out were treated and released.

Assessments In Parish At All Time High

An all-time high of more than $100 million will be reached by the 1957 assessed evaluation of property for tax purposes in Ouachita Parish, barring contradictory action by the Louisiana tax commission.

Ouachita Parish Tax Assessor Bert Coverdale said yesterday that his office has nearly completed the compilation of assessments for last year, and is in the process of making the abstract which will be sent to the commission in Baton Rouge.

On the basis of present figures, the 1957 total represents an increase of about $3 million, and is much more than double the assessed evaluation of property here in 1942 when Coverdale first took office.

Last year's list shows a slight decline in the number of new homes built, but the increase was made up in greater industrial growth, Coverdale said. He added that there has been a steady increase in assessed evaluation each year, some running above the $6 million mark.

However, this increase is attributed solely to the natural growth and prosperity of the parish and not to any undue raise in assessments, Coverdale said.

The spokesman described the reports as speculation. He said there is no present indication that Ambassador Herve Alphand will be replaced. Soustelle, a De Gaulle supporter in Parliament, is a leader of the French civilian-military junta in Algeria.

Diplomatic sources said earlier De Gaulle would send Soustelle to Washington to get him out of the French political scene.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's re-

The Prime Minister is under heavy pressure at home to step up trade with the Russians and to press for the relaxing of further restrictions in trade with the Communist bloc.

From Washington, Macmillan will go to Ottawa for talks with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker about the Commonwealth economic conference to be held in Montreal this fall.

Macmillan is to fly from Washington to Greencastle, Ind., Sunday to address DePauw University graduates on interdependence in defense, economic and political spheres. He will return to Washington Monday for talks with Eisenhower and a speech to the National Press Club, Tuesday he will fly to Baltimore for the Johns Hopkins University commencement. Program

U. C. Cockrell, of the faculty of Woodlawn school, West Monroe, was honored in a special program. He had no idea that he would have the story of his life told to the assembly as he took his place on the platform.

The story was called, "This Is Your Life Story," and it was delightfully and completely lived all over again. After his first rather "stage fright," Cockrell became quite reconciled to the program.

Instructive

A highly instructive talk was given in the West Monroe Rotary club this week. The speaker A. O. Evans predicted that the atomic age will produce a fuel that may far outclass the use of electricity.

It appears that this little old world is being fast reconstructed and it all seems to have occurred mostly in the century in which we live. There seems to be no end of wonders.

Convention

The International convention of Rotary clubs closed a four-day highly successful presentation in the city of Dallas, Tex. this week.

Leon Hammond, a prominent Monroe Rotarian, reports that the attendance was in excess of 15,000 and that the program rendered was exceptionally far reaching and far looking.

He was in court for arraignment on felonious assault charges.

Youth Is Injured In Bike Accident

George Easley, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Easley of 1102 S. 3 Street, was slightly injured yesterday when his bicycle collided with a car.

According to George's parents, no charges were filed in the incident and damages were slight. George suffered a few bruises and scratches.

ARRESTED

West Monroe police yesterday arrested Clara Eley, 52, of 109 Orange Street in West Monroe and charged her with disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language and simple battery.

The arrest was made on a warrant sworn out by Francis Lawrence who gave no address. Clara Eley was released on a $150 bond.

She will appear in city court June 11.

Bloc Meeting Is Requested

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Tunisia and Morocco Friday asked for a meeting of the Asian-African bloc to consider putting the whole North African problem before the U.N. General Assembly this fall.

The action was initiated by Algerian nationalist representatives here. They said they will insist on bringing the question of Algerian independence before the 81-nation Assembly despite the latest pronouncements by French Prime Minister Charles de Gaulle. De Gaulle promised equal rights for Algerians and Frenchmen in Algeria.

Diplomatic sources said earlier De Gaulle would send Sostelle to Washington to get him out of the French political scene.

Amendments To Correct Mistake Being Planned

(Continued From First Page) ous language in the Holt amendments and immediately consulted a number of attorneys, representatives, senators and administration officials for their views on the bill.

As amended by Holt, the bill now provides that "proceeds shall be used to pay the increases authorized by law in the salaries of teachers in public schools and of school bus drivers in this state, and also to provide the necessary funds to maintain the salaries paid during 1957-1958 to school teachers and school bus drivers who have to take what was left, if anything."

It means principals, superintendents, janitors and others would be assured of their 1958 salary level, and the teachers and school bus drivers would only be assured of their 1956 level—the floor of the two minimum salary schedules—Acts 3 and 112 of 1956.

Attorneys also questioned the wording of the amendment pertaining to paying the "increases authorized by law." It could open the way for a court fight to determine whether or not school teachers and bus drivers would get anything from the tax, or it would spill into the State Treasury.

Their reasoning, boiled down, is that the present salary law is Act 3 and Act 112, which is a minimum salary schedule. It provides for pay raises through increments for years experience and other factors. But nowhere in the act is the word "increases" used or provided for.

"Even though the intention is to give the money to school teachers, it could pave the way for court litigation—and only the courts can decide the intent of the legislature," one attorney said.

As originally drafted the bill provides for a two cent hike and proceeds to pay "up to but not to exceed one half of the increase in teacher's salaries provided by Act 3 of 1956, etc." The administration and school teacher's claim they need $4 million to maintain their salaries at present level.

Sliced back to one cent, the BHC dust will be sprayed on the Upper Class night program Saturday, June 7. In addition to this honor, all three made the Par Honor Roll in May last month. Robert Larkin of Monroe, also made the Par Honor Roll as well as the Hon. Roll.

He laid before the Council a 10,000-word indictment of President Nasser's U.A.R. government increasing interference in Lebanon's internal politics.

"We have tried direct contacts with the United Arab Republic, but without avail," Malik said.

We resort to the Arab League and we gave it all opportunity to act, but no decision was taken, and the intervention, far from abating, has actually increased in intensity in the last day or two.

"Now our independence, our fate, and peace in the area and perhaps even in the world, are in your responsibility."

The Lebanese diplomat offered no specific suggestions as to what the Council should do to halt the acts which he outlined in detail. These were listed primarily as the smuggling of arms to Lebanese rebels, the training of subversives and a constant blast of inflammatory broadcasts from Cairo and Damascus.

U.A.R. Ambassador Omar Loutfi said his government rejects all charges that it is interfering in Lebanon's affairs.

"Nobody threatens Lebanon," he declared.

Loutfi charged that Lebanon had tried to give an international aspect to a purely domestic political fight so that the U.N. could be brought into the picture.

Assessments In Parish At All Time High

An all-time high of more than $100 million will be reached by the 1957 assessed evaluation of property for tax purposes in Ouachita Parish, barring contradictory action by the Louisiana tax commission.

BEHIND WORKS

Kilpatrick's Beat Farmerville, 2-1

Wayne Works pitched a crisp one into infield grounders to retire hitter, retiring the side in the side. The victory was the second in the seventh with the tying and winning runs on base, to straight for Dick Howard's West give West Monroe's Kilpatrick's a Monroe team and the loss was the second for Dale Elkins' Farmerville here yesterday.

Works lost his shutout in the top of the seventh when Eddie Smith's double drove in an unearned run. After a dropped third strike, went to second on another passed ball, stole third and then came home when catcher R. V. Lockwood threw high trying to cut him force out Silmon at second for the down at the hot corner.

Charlie Dykes led off the first of the seven when Eddie Smith's double drove in an unearned run. Smith was on second and Melvin Silmon, who had walked, on first. Steele, third and then came home when catcher R. V. Lockwood threw high trying to cut him force out Silmon at second for the down at the hot corner.

Haile hit Jim Steele to open the second and Steele swiped second, earned tally in the first and put second. After Roy Scroggins fanned and Ronny Haile flied out, Glen Dowd, Glen Dowd's single. They got by singled down first base line to bring in Steele. Steele left the third and fourth and put another game after the inning and was on third in the fifth but couldn't be examined by a doctor but had nothing more serious than some bruised ribs.

Parker Haile, the starter and reliever Silmon combined for a 2-hitter themselves. Roscoe Holcomb led off the third with a long triple to left but Silmon mastered the situation with three strikeouts, two of them five and gave up one hit in two innings and Silmon struck out six total. Bacon reached third in the fifth inning via an error and allowed two safeties the rest of the way.

Works struck out 10 and walked the only two in going all the way for the fourth. Works walked and went to the triumph. He was in serious third on Dykes' double but Holcomb flied out to end the frame. In the fourth, Ike Futch tripped. Farmerville's Smith was the only batter to get more than one with one out but Works coaxed a double with a single and a double while Holcomb's triple and Dykes' double were the best blows for the winners.

CAVAN IS THREAT

Tim Tam Faces 7 Rivals
In Belmont Chase Today

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Seven horses, including a longshot in-trader named Saferis, were named to oppose the Calumet Farm's Tim Tam Saturday in the tough mile and a half Belmont Stakes at swanky Belmont Park.

All week long the management had figured only six colts would go against Tim Tam, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, who would become the ninth horse in history to complete the Triple Crown if he can take the Belmont.

The colt given the best chance to make a battle of it is Irish-bred Cavan, who came from 14 lengths behind and won the Peter Pan Handicap last week. Cavan, owned by Joseph E. O'Connell of Boston, won going away by 4 lengths in that mile and one eighth race.

S. R. Shapoff, who trains Saferis for the Two Brooks Farm at Basking Ridge, N. J., made the surprise entry. Saferis' owner is Mike Sakele, a Manhattan restaurateur, and the colt has yet to win in nine starts this year. A week ago Saferis ran fourth in a one-mile race at Belmont.

Saferis met Tim Tam last March at Gulfstream Park, and finished seventh by almost 9 lengths when the Calumet flyer won the Fountain of Youth Stakes. If eight start in the Belmont, to be televised and broadcast nationally by CBS from 2:30-3:00 p.m. (CST) the pot will gross $114,600, and $73,440 net to the winner.

Hedley Woodhouse was named to ride Saferis, who managed to win two races on a sloppy track last fall at Pimlico. They were his only victories in 10 outings as a 2-year-old.

All owners must put up $1,000 to start, and the weatherman doesn't see a chance of any mud for Saferis. The forecast is for sunny skies.

Ted Atkinson, who rode Capot to victory in the 1949 Belmont, will skipper Chance It Tony, owned by Mrs. Anna Cannuli. No jockey was named for Mrs. Charles Silvers' Page Seven.

Ismael Valenzuela, who was aboard when Tim Tam won the Derby and Preakness, is seeking to become the eighth jockey to ride a Triple Crown colt.

The Wheatley Stable's Nasco will have Eddie Arcaro, looking for his seventh Belmont; Eric Guerin, who won two of them, is on C. V. Whitney's Flamingo; Conn McCreary rides George Lewis' Martins Rullah; Pete Anderson will pilot Cavan.

Carrying out of the new joint regulation is up to the umpires, but Harridge and Giles pointed out that "pitchers and managers are in the best position to control the practice by voluntary action, which would be more effective than any rule that could be written."

Harridge and Giles said they hoped their action would curb a "dangerous trend which could bring nothing but harm to the game."

Their joint statement said: "We recognize that many incidents which may appear to be the result of intent are definitely unintentional. Many of these entirely unintentional incidents have been dramatized out of all proportion. The action we have taken is designed to reduce what appears to be a growing trend toward intentional throwing at batters."

Harridge and Giles emphasized that the so-called "brush back pitch" to keep the batter from crowding the plate was not the target of their action.

Deliberate throwing at a batter, however, was different, they said, and is "unsportsmanlike and has no place in baseball."

The present rule merely states a pitcher shall not pitch at a bat-

Miss Wright
Forges Huge
Lead In PGA

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Straight-shooting Mickey Wright vaulted into an eight-stroke lead Friday with her second one-under-par 68 for a 138 total at the halfway mark of the 72-hole ladies PGA Tournament.

The bespectacled blonde from San Diego showed why she was named the most improved woman pro in 1957 by playing Churchill Valley Country Club's short, hilly layout in 35-34. She birdied the 3rd, 9th and 18th and bogied the 7th and 14th.

Mickey's booming drives were unaffected by shifting winds that bothered many of the other 26 woman pros in the race for one of their most coveted titles. Scores were particularly high on the heartbreaking back nine. The sun shone brilliantly, but the weather was cool after heavy overnight rains.

Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., and Kathy Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla., shared second place with 146s. Kathy added a 75 to her first round 71, while Miss Hanson, the 1955 Ladies PGA winner, posted 72-74.

Par for the 6,025-yard layout is 63-34-70.

Nine strokes off Miss Wright's sizzling pace at 147 are Fay Crockett of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Betty Jameson of San Antonio.

Miss Jameson blew a beautiful chance to gain ground when she tired on the back nine to take a 40 for a 72. Her outgoing round of 32 was the best posted in the first 36 holes. She finished with five straight bogies.

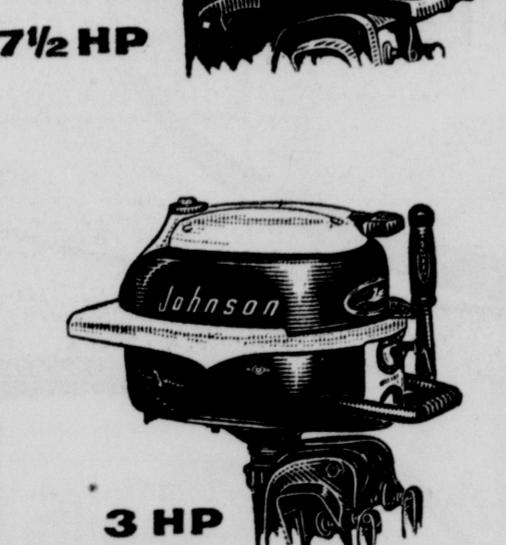

A dismaying 11 strokes back but still with slight chances were Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., and Ruth Jessen of Seattle. Betsy had a 74-75-149, the same as Miss Jessen.

Eighteen hole rounds are scheduled Saturday and for the Sunday windup.

The low scorers:

Beverly Hanson	72-74-146

CUBS WIN, 6-1

Drott 4-Hitter
Sinks Pirates

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Drott yielded two doubles for a run in the first inning then held Pittsburgh to two singles in pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 6-1 triumph Friday.

It was the 21-year-old right-hander's third win, and the second complete game in his last three starts.

Drott struck out 10, including Frank Thomas, who was called out to end the two hour and 23 minute sun-kissed matinee played in 54-degree weather.

It was Pittsburgh's fifth straight defeat and the Pirates' 17th in the last 22 games.

Starter Vern Law left in the fourth, it was his fourth loss. Bob Porterfield and R. G. Smith followed Law.

There was a definite power contrast between the first two inning runs and the Cubs' second run in the second.

Bill Virdon opened with a double, and Bob Skinner walked. Dick Groat flied to Bobby Thomson.

In the Cub fourth, Moose Morley, Dale Long, Sam Taylor and Thomson singled, producing two runs. Law left in favor of Porterfield, but one more run scored.

After walking Roberto Clemente to open the second, Drott mowed down 13 straight-fanning seven of them—before Skinner singled in the sixth.

Smith was working in the eighth when the Cubs got their sixth run.

Banks opened with a triple for his second hit, and scored when he hit Groat's throw to the plate on Long's roller.

Jimmy Jones, the Calumet trainer, was he nervous but not worried. Tim Tam now has won eight straight.

"I hope he's as good as he was in the Derby and Preakness, but you never know. Furthermore, none of these 3-year-olds has tackled a mile and a half yet," said Jones, who saddled Calumet's Citation, winner of the last Triple Crown 10 years ago.

"It's like a baseball manager sending up a pinch hitter, and not knowing whether he's going to get a hit or not."

Their joint statement said:

"We recognize that many incidents which may appear to be the result of intent are definitely unintentional. Many of these entirely unintentional incidents have been dramatized out of all proportion. The action we have taken is designed to reduce what appears to be a growing trend toward intentional throwing at batters."

Fix Automatic Fine For Duster Pitches

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The presidents of the American and National Leagues Friday drafted, for immediate effect, a rule imposing an automatic $50 fine against a pitcher on a first deliberate try to hit a batter and more severe penalties for such continued intentional "dusting."

A new joint regulation also provides that if "dusting" persists, a pitcher will be removed from the game and the league president shall levy a fine or suspension as his judgement warrants.

The rule against "deliberate" throwing at batters was drafted by presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Warren Giles of the National League, at a meeting in Harridge's office.

The action, exceptional on the part of the two major league leaders, followed a wave of "dustings" particularly in the National League this season.

Harridge and Giles emphasized that the so-called "brush back pitch" to keep the batter from crowding the plate was not the target of their action.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Compliment Miss Ann Gillum In Farmerville

Artistic arrangements of magnolia blossoms, Madonna lilies and pink roses in classic containers lent beauty to the spacious home of Mrs. John W. Taylor in Farmerville, on Thursday evening, when she, Mrs. Sam Hartman and Miss Olivia Barr entertained with a miscellaneous shower complimenting the popular bride - elect of Mr. Stein Baughman, Jr., Miss Ann Gillum.

Mrs. Taylor greeted the guests at the entrance and receiving with the hostesses and the honor guest were the latter's mother, Mrs. J. D. Gillum and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stein Baughman, all attired in becoming summer models, wearing dainty corsages. The honoree was lovely in a pale green all - over embroidered polished cotton sheath, accented by a pink rose - bud corsage a gift of the hostesses. Miss Myrna Hall presided over the bride's book in which the guests registered. On her table was a silver bowl, overflowing with gorgeous pink roses.

The guests were invited by Miss Mitzi Baughman and Miss Gay Gillum to view the gifts, which were attractively displayed in the living room on long tables, draped in pink, cascaded with net and caught at intervals with satin ribbon bows and clusters of sweetheart rose buds.

The service table was overlaid with a handsome hand-made cut work linen cloth. A low footed silver bowl of beautiful pink carnations and lycopodium, graced the center. Pink tapers burning in double silver holders cast a soft glow over the artistic setting. The silver punch bowl, placed at one end of the table, was presided over by Mrs. A. C. Dykes and Mrs. Dewey L. Barr. Dainty bridal confections in silver trays and compotes were placed along the board. Misses Lynn Baughman, Carol Ann Hartman and Janis Black served as tea girls. Mrs. Earl Taylor assisted in the serving.

Around one hundred seventy guests called during the receiving hours of 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock. Out of town guests were Mrs. Sidney Wynn of Rayville, Miss Ines Gunter of Delhi, Mrs. J. Y. Green and Mrs. W. C. Reeves of Bernice, Mrs. Mary Lee Phillips, Mrs. Gurvis Post, Mrs. Emmett Maroney, Mrs. J. B. Oliver, Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. W. C. Crow Marion.

Shower

Miss Ann Gillum, whose marriage to Mr. Stein Baughman, Jr., was an event of June 5th, was hosted Saturday evening, May 24th, between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock with a linen shower in the home of Mrs. Fletcher Ramsey in Farmerville, hosted by Mrs. Monroe Barr Mitchell, Jr.

Lovely pink roses and blue hydrangeas were placed at vantage points throughout the entertaining suite. Miss Gillum chose for the occasion a beige linen sheath dress.

The refreshment table, laid with a handsome linen cloth, was centrally adorned with an arrangement of sweetheart roses and Queen Ann's lace, flanked by burning pink tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Revis Fowler served punch from a crystal bowl placed at one end of the table, along with individual embossed wedding cakes.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Compliment Miss Ann Gillum In Farmerville

Artistic arrangements of magnolia blossoms, Madonna lilies and Mrs. Ines Gunter and Dr. and Mrs. Rudolph M. Dozier of Delhi and Mr. and Mrs. Collins Thomas of Tallulah at the Ruston Country Club on Friday.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the beautiful arrangements placed from the entrance hall throughout the ball room and the glassed in porch.

The bride's table was especially lovely, hearing a large silver bowl of delicate pink carnations and tall tapers burning in matching candelabra.

The patio was particularly festive with sixty or more young couples exchanging greetings and conversing around the candle lighted tables set for the occasion and later used for the lavish buffet supper, which was served from the snack bar and bride's table.

Throughout the evening everyone enjoyed dancing to the music furnished by one of the Louisiana Tech orchestras.

The guests were invited by Miss Mitzi Baughman and Miss Gay Gillum to view the gifts, which were attractively displayed in the living room on long tables, draped in pink, cascaded with net and caught at intervals with satin ribbon bows and clusters of sweet-rose buds.

The service table was overlaid with a handsome hand-made cut work linen cloth. A low footed silver bowl of beautiful pink carnations and lycopodium, graced the center. Pink tapers burning in double silver holders cast a soft glow over the artistic setting.

Green and Mrs. W. C. Reeves of Bernice. Mrs. Mary Lee Phillips, Mrs. Gurvis Post, Mrs. Emmett Maroney, Mrs. J. B. Oliver, Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. W. C. Crow or Marion.

Beautiful pink roses and lacy ferns decorated the entertaining rooms. The centerpiece of the dining room table, which was laid with white linen damask and completely serviced in silver, was an exquisite arrangement of white gladioli interspersed with daisies, carnations and angel fern. Long white tapers glowed in silver holders. Madonna lilies, pink and silver candelabra with burning white tapers, graced the buffet.

The guest places were marked at small tables with pink double wedding ring place cards. The tables were laid with white maderia clothes and adorned with burning pink candles, pink rose-buds, ivy and white wedding bells. The honor guest's table was marked with a gift, silver bread tray, beautifully wrapped in white and tied with silver ribbons.

The bride-elect was becomingly gowned in a billowy yellow dotted swiss dress and white accessories. She was presented a dainty corsage of white carnations by her hostesses.

The refreshment table, laid with a handsome linen cloth, was centrally adorned with an arrangement of sweetheart roses and Queen Ann's lace, flanked by burning pink tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Revis Fowler served punch from a crystal bowl placed at one end of the table, along with individual embossed wedding cakes.

Vityaz expedition chief V. Petelin was quoted as reporting that the radioactivity was recorded "over 1,800 miles west of the Marshall Islands where the U.S.A. has been testing atomic bombs."

Gets Suspended Sentence After Knife-Slaying

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A Waynesboro, Miss., man received a three-year suspended sentence in circuit court Friday for the knife slaying of a fellow oil rig worker at Citternelle, Ala., a year ago.

Tommy L. Cochran, 26, pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter and Judge Herndon Inge Jr. imposed the sentence.

Cochran was charged in the fatal knifing of Charles Ray Wilks, 30, Columbia, Miss., outside a citternelle restaurant last July 20.

Blast Damage Is Estimated

MABEN, Miss. (AP) — M. A. Moody, owner of the Moody Manufacturing Co., estimated Friday his firm lost $15,000 in the explosion and fire which destroyed the paint department yesterday.

The explosion occurred when an employee, John Clark, struck a match to burn paint from equipment, Moody said. Clark escaped injury.

Saturday reports that the program endangers wildlife have

"We certainly wouldn't go along with a program that was a serious threat to our wildlife population," Stevens' statement said. "At the same time, farmers, who are suffering from the ants, are not going to sit idly by and let the ants take over their pastures and fields because of the anxiety of some of our city-dwelling sportsmen."

Stevens said Mississippi expects to treat about 40,000 acres with $150,000 in state, federal and local funds. Counties where work is to be started and the approximate number of infested acres: Monroe, 7,000 acres; Chickasaw 200; Webster 800; Attala 828; Copiah 160; Simpson 3,700; Smith 2,640; Lincoln 200; Lawrence 40; Wilkinson 640; Amite 200. Boy, 10, Hurt When Bicycle, Truck Collide yesterday when, according to police reports, his bicycle collided with a pick up truck driven by Rufus Henry, 64, of 214 May St.

Ten-year-old Bobby Mann of 806 Georgia St. was slightly injured

Records showed Henry was traveling North on Alabama St. when Bobby allegedly ran the top sign going east on Stockton. The truck hit the rear of the bicycle, throwing Bobby to the ground.

Bobby's mother, Mrs. Roy Mann, said last night that he only had a few bruises and a "bunged-up nose."

No charges were filed in the accident.

Another collision with a small property damage involved occurred yesterday morning when Patricia Mott, 18, of Hebert, started to pull away from the curb on the traffic circle behind Northeast State College. A car driven by Shirley Anderson, 18, of 102 Carter of Winnsboro drove by and collided with Miss Mott's car.

Both cars were damaged on the right front fender.

No charges were filed.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce & Smith

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures were irregular Friday. Final prices were 20 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher.

The market was slow with traders inclined to await fresh developments on farm legislation.

Washington trade reports suggested that prospects are dimming for the omnibus farm bill. In that event, traders felt that chances would be enhanced for passage of new cotton legislation as a separate measure.

The weather in the cotton belt was generally favorable.

Liquidation and hedging extended early losses to about 50 cents a bale. The market improved as New Orleans and commission house buying found offerings light.

Traders continued to transfer holdings from July to October in nearby months, anticipating first notice day for the July option on June 24. The nearby July option interest at the start was down to 156,000 bales.

Aircrafts

Aircrafts added fractions with General Dynamics up seven-eighths. Airlines showed little change while steels favored quarter point gains and coppers were mixed by small fractions. Aluminums favored fractional gains as did electronics with Litton in sharp demand up one and a half.

Chemicals

Chemicals showed little change as Kodak added one.

Merchandise and motor vehicles were neglected as were fractionally higher building shares. Papers lost fractions while rails were fractionally mixed.

BONDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts and oils were in the forefront as strength pulled up a slightly lower stock market and gave it still another new high for 1958 Friday.

It was a narrow rise and the market was an erratic, up-and-down affair. Trading was fairly active.

Considerable switching was apparent judging by the gyrations of some leading issues. Most of the day there was little or no group action. Both the blue chips and the lower quality issues got a play in what seemed to be a higher degree of speculative activity than usual. Until the final hour it was a highly selective affair.

Aircrafts went forward vigorously in late dealings, aided by prospects of big new expenditures on missiles. Oils moved forward well. Rails, which had backed away from an early gain, managed another recovery and closed a bit higher on average.

The steels, motors, base metals and chemicals were pretty ragged.

News that the unemployment total had dropped below five million for the first time since January came late in the day and struck a new note of confidence. Earlier the market background was overshadowed by the House-Senate economic committee report which said the nation's economy might not get back on its feet until late 1960.

An increase in auto sales, another boost in copper prices and a feeling that the railroads probably would get some help from the Senate despite objections raised by Secretary of Commerce Weeks were other helpful items.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 30 cents to its latest yearly peak of $172.60, marking the fourth time this year a new high has been attained. The industrial component was up 30 cents and the rails up 10 cents—both to new '58 highs while the utilities ended forward 10 cents.

Both rails and industrials established new 1958 highs on the AP index of 60 representative bonds. Foreign dollar bonds improved. Investment quality issues and utilities were firm.

Trading amounted to $5,230,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared to $7,190,000 Thursday.

Men Over Fifty Face Blindness From Glaucoma

WASHINGTON (AP) — About one of every 19 men over 50 years old faces possible blindness from glaucoma, a Veterans Administration survey indicated Friday.

The VA said this emphasizes the importance of frequent and thorough eye examinations for persons in this age group so the disease can be detected in time for early treatment.

Dr. Jacques Landesberg, the clinic's chief of ophthalmology, described glaucoma as a disease in which pressure builds up within the eye. This causes progressive blindness and ultimate destruction of the optic nerve.

Confident Son Will Be Cleared

TOKYO (AP) — A Mississippi railroad president expressed confidence Friday that his soldier son will be cleared of an Army charge that he murdered his wife.

Sp.C. Richard M. Stovall, 22, of Columbus, Miss., was accused Friday of causing the death of 19-year-old Suzanne Stovall in their rented Tokyo home.

The Army said the case was reopened because "inconsistencies were discovered."

He said he believes the Army has made a serious mistake.

Teachers, Not Kids, Not Get Report Cards

WAKAYAMA, Japan (AP) — About 100,000 kids in southern Japan got a holiday Friday, and for an unheard-of reason.

Teachers are hopping mad because of a new-fangled system of report cards—report cards for teachers, not pupils. So the teachers walked out in a strike.

The government ordered the reports on teachers to weed out incompetents.

The strike closed 100 grade and high schools and turned loose 50,000 kids here.

Men Over Fifty

Face Blindness From Glaucoma

WASHINGTON (AP) — About one of every 19 men over 50 years old faces possible blindness from glaucoma, a Veterans Administration survey indicated Friday.

The VA said this emphasizes the importance of frequent and thorough eye examinations for persons in this age group so the disease can be detected in time for early treatment.

Dr. Jacques Landesberg, the clinic's chief of ophthalmology, described glaucoma as a disease in which pressure builds up within the eye. This causes progressive blindness and ultimate destruction of the optic nerve.

Confident Son Will Be Cleared

TOKYO (AP) — A Mississippi railroad president expressed confidence Friday that his soldier son will be cleared of an Army charge that he murdered his wife.

Sp.3C. Richard M. Stovall, 22, of Columbus, Miss., was accused Friday of causing the death of 19-year-old Suzanne Stovall by gas asphyxiation on March 17, 1957, in their rented Tokyo home.

The Army said the case was reopened because "inconsistencies were discovered."

"No statement should have been given out until a more complete investigation is made," said the soldier's visiting father, R. C. Stovall, president of the Columbus and Greenville Railroad in Mississippi. "I think the matter will be straightened out with further investigation."

He said he believes the Army has made a serious mistake.

The soldier was confirmed to the stockade at Camp Drake, outside Tokyo.

Military records show Mrs. Stovall, originally of Biloxi, Miss., was overcome by gas heater rumes. Her death at first was listed as accidental. The Army said her husband, who was sleeping beside her, was not seriously affected by the fumes.

They were married in the United States in October, 1956, just before Stovall was transferred to Japan. Mrs. Stovall died a week after they arrived. Her husband accompanied her body to Mississippi for burial and returned to Japan last July at his own request.

The highest peak in New York state is 5,344-foot Mount Marcy in the Adirondacks. Topping the state's Catskill Mountains is Balsam Cap, 3,700-feet high, in Ulster County.

By J. M. ROBERTS

Charles de Gaulle is playing some pretty slick and also highly dangerous politics in Algiers.

2. He has gained among the Moslems by this maneuver, especially among a large number who also prefer a stable community.

The French always have claimed they would have the majority of Moslem support for progressive integration measures were it not for the terror spread by the independence extremists. De Gaulle's reception by them makes this claim appear more real than ever before.

Dulles noted these talks have developed from exploratory talks in Moscow so far that has led him to believe that the Soviet Union, like the United States, would like to reduce the economic burden of modern armaments.

We also believe that the Soviet Union, under present conditions does not want war. Therefore, some common ground exists," he added.

On the encouraging side, Dulles cited the Soviet agreement to join in scientific studies of ways of policing an agreement to suspend atomic tests and Soviet acceptance of a U.S. proposal to confer on neutralizing the antarctic for scientific purposes.

De Gaulle Plays Slick Politics

By J. M. ROBERTS

Charles de Gaulle is playing some pretty slick and also highly dangerous politics in Algiers. He is relying upon his popularity among the people and the army to establish a spiritual weight which have made them leadership which will persuade the masters of an area in which they Moslems to become Frenchmen are a minority of 1 in 9. But it and at the same time re-establish has given many of them hope of the control of Paris over both the army and the French colonists. Developments during his Algerian tour indicate several things:

1. He has lost a little among the colonials by offering to do the job of subduing the fighting rebels, and by telling the civilians to eschew political authority and a stable climate in which to live, work for what he calls "integration."

2. He has gained among the Moslems by this maneuver, especially among a large number who also prefer a stable community. The French always have claimed they would have the majority of Moslem support for progressive integration measures were it not for the terror spread by the independence extremists. De Gaulle's reception by them makes this claim appear more real than ever before.

3. De Gaulle has undercut the public safety committees by ordering their army leaders back to the job of subduing the fighting rebels, and by telling the civilians to eschew political authority and thus, while saying he proposes to end discrimination so that Moslem moslems will stand as tall as any, he will be forced as a matter of practical politics to practice a form of it.

After the first flush of gains, this will not be lost on the new converts to France he now seems to be collecting.

One of the great ponderables is the long-term effect in the army of De Gaulle's current attempt to shush them, and whether the choice of Gen. Salan as his representative in Algiers will hold down the extremists like Massu.

And the greatest of all questions still remains:

Will anything short of independence really settle the Algerian question?

Judge Makes Pay Ruling

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—Judge Rene Himmel of district court ruled Thursday that the Iberia Parish school board didn't have to pay part of the $12,602 to furnish the office of Ceasar LaBauve, parish assessor.

Judge Jimel, in reviewing State Act 702, said he didn't believe the choice of Gen. Salan as his representative in Algiers will hold down the extremists like Massu.

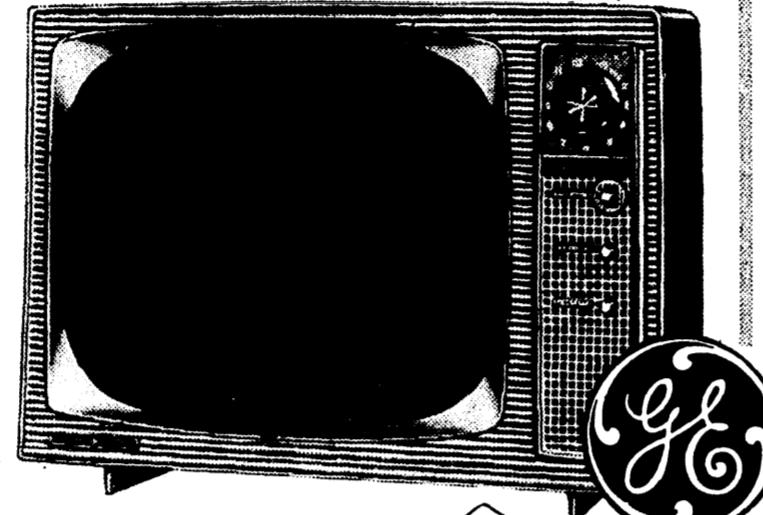

The act provides that parish taxlevying bodies share the cost of furnishing office necessities for assessors and sheriffs.
